Pioneer Tells of Struggles With Desperadoes In Frontier Days In The West

CROWDS ATTEND LIVE-AT-HOME MEETINGS

SWEET CLOVER

By Wallace Rice

Within what weeks the melilot Gave forth its fragrance, I, a lad, Or never knew or quite forgot.
Save that 'twas while the year is glad.

Now know I that in bright July It blossoms; and the perfume fine Brings back my boyhood, until I Am steeped in memory as with wine.

Now know I that the whole year long,
Though Winter chills or Summer cheers,
It writes along the weeks its songs, Even as my youth sings through my years.

HUMORETTES

"Shop Assistant—The gentleman wants to know if that sweater will shrink."

Base—"Is it too big for him?"
Shop Assistant—"Yes, sir." Base—"Of course, it will."

Joe—"I have Jones fell down on the state highway yesterday." Sam—"Yes, he got mixed on the difference between a club and a cucumber sandwich."

Mrs. Crabber—"Oh, I wish I'd thought twice before marrying you." Mr. Crabber—"Huh, I'd be satisfied if I'd thought just once."

Main Street Looks at Broadway

By OBSERVER

Spatterdashies
Do you remember the first pair of spats you ever saw? Or perhaps you live in a town where they shoot men like that first, before they find out what is the matter. This is to notify one and all that the shooting season on spats is forever closed.
Street cleaners here wear them.
Yessir. Not one, but a lot of them.

White Wing Dudes

Confidentially, we wear them all winter, and so, when we saw the street cleaners sporting them it aroused more than a little curiosity.
"How does it come about that you are wearing spats?" we nervously asked one gutter Chesterfield.
He just grinned, and then told me they were the most comfortable articles of wearing apparel he had ever worn. "They keep the dirt out of the tops of my shoes," said he, and I saw the point.

"They don't cost me anything, either," he continued. "You'd be surprised at the number of pairs I find in emptying garbage cans."

Where Old Hats Go

When everybody wore silk hats there was a rushing trade in second-hand hats, cabbies getting most of them. Now the stage costumers buy up most of them and sell them to magicians and actors for fifty cents each. There also is a strong market for them in Central Africa, where native chieftains regard them in much the same light as King Alfonso did his jeweled crown. How many thousands are sold in equatorial Africa may never be known.

Women's Hats

Occasionally one sees pictures of women of fashion in the gay '30s, crowned with an enormous hat with ostrich feathers and looking like a head of rhubarb or a gooseberry bush, at least in size. Such pictures always give one a laugh.

In New York City, which any New Yorker will tell you is the best-dressed city in the world, one cannot walk more than a few blocks on ultra-fashionable Fifth Avenue without encountering some women wearing past-seventy, decked out in those original hats. Most of them wear their skirts to the ground, carry reticules and look like a page out of Godey's Ladies' Book, which, you may recall, was the fashion gazette of Civil War days.

These old women are treated with respect by everybody. This is probably the only place in the world where their manner of dressing would not excite derision.

HAD TO HUG GROUND THEN TO SAVE LIFE

D. Dingwall, 86, for over a half a century a citizen of Comanche, and said to have been Comanche's oldest business man in point of continuous years when he retired from the management of his shoe shop two years ago, has probably had as colorful a career as any man living in Central West Texas.

Mr. Dingwall who is now recovering from a minor operation which he underwent at Gorman a few weeks ago, talked enthusiastically of his early life when interviewed at his home Friday, climaxing his story with an account of a scouting trip which almost cost him his life in 1866.

"I lay so flat on the ground that my nose dug a hole in the hard root laced soil covered with grass as high as a man's head," Mr. Dingwall said in describing his thrilling escape from two desperadoes. They story as told by Mr. Dingwall is as follows:

"Following the close of the Civil War, I enlisted in the U. S.
Cavalry Scout Service, my principal duties being to help patrol that part of the United States which had not participated very actively in the war, mostly the western sections of New Mexico, Arizona, Wyoming and Utah. Our duties were to run down cattle and horse thieves and other desperadoes and to protect the emigrant trains as they went further west over the Oregon Trail."

"Just preceding the event which I am about to describe in which I had my narrowest escape, we completed a two weeks tour of the Oregon route, clearing the way of Indians and thieves, and had returned to Fort Sanders, Wyoming for a rest for ourselves as well as our horses.

"About midnight of the second day I was awakened by the sound of boots and saddles and was told that the Indians had just made a raid in the vicinity. All the soldiers were called onto the chase except two others and myself who were left to guard the horses and mules. The next night an emigrant train of fourteen wagons stayed with us and when we awoke the next morning we were greeted with the astonishing news that the entire train stock had been held responsible for the raid, my two companions and I held a council of war and decided to follow, ignorant of whether we were in pursuit of red or white men who might number anywhere from one to a hundred.

"After riding the prairies for a half day through the tall grass, we failed to locate the trail and decided to make for the nearest cover where we struck the trail in the edge of the brakes in the soft moist dirt. Our first precaution was to dismount and by examining the tracks to see how many men were in the band of thieves. Finding only the tracks of two horses which were shod all around, we decided that was the number of men we would have to cope with. One of the horses of the thieves had a nail loose in his shoes and this gave us a key to trailing them. Following the trail rapidly, we came upon the two riding as fast as they could but apparently upon animals well laded out. The chase continued until night and the next morning we again picked up their tracks and soon came upon them at the foot of the Rockies.
Their horses still being tired, the desperadoes dismounted and ran into a draw and were soon out of sight. We approached three abreast, each with his six shooter drawn. Within less than a hundred feet of us, the two aros from the tall grass with pistols in each hand and began firing point blank at us and fatally wounded one of our horses before we realized what was happening. After a few exchanges of shots we retreated out of visual range and they took to their feet.

Comanche Co. Editor Is Honored at San Angelo

Comanche County was honored last week at San Angelo when R. L. Scott, Editor of the De Leon Free Press was elected President of the Texas Press Association at its annual meeting.

Lowry Martin of Corsicana was chosen the vice president. Other officers were Sam P. Harben who was re-elected secretary for his twenty-fourth year, and E. F.
Harigel, Treasurer. Members of the executive committee are: Harry Hornsby, Uvalde; M. B. Smith, Farmersville; H. H. Jackson, of Coleman; M. B. Hanks, Abilene; J. L. Greer, Denison, and Joe Kempton.

The convention selected Mineral Wells as next year's meeting place.
Mr. Scott entered the newspaper field at DeLeon as editor of the Free Press in 1910 and has continued to operate with the exception of about 19 months during the war period.

PRISONERS OFF TO HUNTSVILLE

Comanche's prison population dwindled to the lowest within several months Friday when Ed Bynum and Clarence Webb, were taken to Stephenville by Sheriff Dwight Brightman and Deputy Turner Sanders where they met Bud Russell, State Agent, who conveyed the prisoners to Huntsville. Webb is under a two year sentence for forgery and Bynum has two years on an alleged liquor charge.

E. B. Billingslea, under sentence for cattle theft, was taken to Stephenville by the officers, but was returned to Comanche on orders of the State on account of the crowded conditions at Huntsville.

Only one other prisoner was in the Comanche jail Saturday morning.

SAYS FRUIT WILL GIVE LONG LIFE

Stephenville, Texas
June 11, 1931

Last fall I had a letter from a man in Abilene wanting some trees to replant with. He stated that he was 98 years old and his wife is ninety-six. He said he was two days writing the letter, that he could only see to write a few minutes, he also stated that he would not be without an orchard and expected to leave an orchard for his children. Today I ran across this letter and I got to ruminating about this remarkable coincidence.

Here was a man and his wife both crowding the century mark.
The life insurance men say the reason we live a certain age or to old we inherit a strong constitution. I am wondering if they are wrong that we inherit the habit of long life. This woman may have adopted the same habits as her husband and the same habits that have caused her to live so long brought long life to her husband.

I also wondered if it is the fruit eating habit that has caused these two people to live a long time. It is said that when we are born there is not much lime in the bones but as we grow older there is more lime and continues to be more and more, and in old age the bones get to be nearly all lime then the blood stream begins to deposit lime in the muscles and the arteries become clogged with lime.

My theory is that fruit juice sustains life without filling the system with lime. The man who begins to get old knows there is some deposit in his muscles. He is afraid to jump like a child.
He knows his bones would be easily broken. In the Garden of Eden it seems men had the promise of eternal life. But when they were cast out of the garden they began to eat other things

COUNTY SCHOOLS MAY YET GET BACK BONUS

Comanche Schools may be entitled to receive $3,560 belated consolidation bonus under a recent law entitling certain schools which affected consolidations since 1917 and were not given bonuses at the time, to receive the belated aid.

Schools which may receive the aid, Mr. Walker said are Gustine, $1,000 on account of consolidations with Macksville and Hebron; Pettit, $1,000 on account of the consolidation of Swan Hill, Fleming and Shiloh; Sidney $500 on account of consolidation with Oak Grove; Duster $1,000 on account of consolidation with Live Oak.

County line schools which may profit under the law are May, $500 on account of the consolidation with Imola; Blanket $500, on account of the consolidation with Whitville; Carleton $500, on account of the consolidation with Midway.

The Comanche schools were not given aid at the time of consolidation because the schools had not been grouped Mr. Walker explained except that of Duster and Live Oak which was denied the aid because that another school had consolidated with Duster within the same month.

Opens Dental Office Here

Dr. E. R. Ammons, recently of Fort Worth, opened a dental office in Comanche Monday morning, using the suite of rooms formerly occupied by Dr. I. M.
Cochran.

Dr. Ammons who was reared in Bosque County has practiced at Stanton since his graduation from the Texas Dental College of Houston in 1928 until he moved to Fort Worth a few weeks ago.

Dr. and Mrs. Ammons arrived in Comanche Sunday. Mrs. Ammons, who has been teaching in the Stanton Schools for the past four years, will assist Dr. Ammons in his office.

WOMEN SHOW INTEREST IN ALL MEETINGS

Approximately 75,000 quarts of vegetables, fruit and meats were signed up to be canned and preserved this summer and fall by approximately 75 women and 4-H Club girls who attended the initial meeting Monday at the Hasse School building of the Live-At-Home campaign being waged this week throughout the county by County Agent J. A. Barton assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Temple, Home Demonstration Agent of the Frisco Railway. A minimum of 919 quarts for a family of five were listed by Mrs. Temple as essential if the program is to be completely followed, with at least 30 different varieties of vegetables should be grown in the garden.

The Hasse women enthusiastically pledged themselves to carry out the program as closely as they can, and many of them have already canned their quotas of certain vegetables and fruit. Mrs.
Temple among other things advised that each family should now begin, if possible, to fatten a young calf, to be canned about the first of November.

The canning budget adopted for a family of five included 120 cans of leafy vegetables, 100 quarts of starchy vegetables, 80 quarts of other vegetables, 160 quarts of fruit, 125 quarts of tomatoes, 52 quarts of pickles or relishes, 52 quarts of jelly or preserves, 80 miscellaneous quarts 35 quarts of brined vegetables, 50 pounds of dried fruit, 25 pounds of dried vegetables, enough cured meat for the family.

Besides the canned goods the live-at-home program includes a sufficient supply of milk to give each child a quart and each adult a pint daily, cottage cheese three times a week, and butter at each meal.

The meats in addition to the pork include poultry, and lamb and kid where possible. Eggs, said Mrs. Temple, was an essential part of the diet and potatoes, yams, carrots, onions, radishes, could be kept in storage during the time of the year they were not grown in the garden.

The meeting at Hasse began early in the morning and continued throughout the day, most of the morning being devoted to a canning demonstration when squash, English peas, string beans, carrots, Kraut and beets were put up.

Dinner was served in picnic style at noon after which the demonstration continued, talks in addition to Mr. Barton and Mrs.
Temple being made by Judge J. P. Hoff of Comanche.

An entertainment feature of the program was singing and guitar music by the Meroney sisters.

ing will get under way immediately and the equipment will include the latest in hospital needs.

Dr. Osterhout who was a surgeon in the regular army before establishing a hospital at Goldthwaite four years ago will be assisted in the work by Mrs.
Osterhout who is a trained nurse.

Dr. and Mrs. Osterhout will occupy the J. R. Eanes home just south of the hospital as a says, a totally new magazine the like of which no one has ever dared to publish before.

A prize of $5.00 is offered each month for the best article submitted. The initial award went to Miss Minnie Cunningham of Comanche who wrote an article, "The Perils of a School Teacher".
George G., during his high

Editor-in-Chief of the Arrow Head and later editor of the Howard Payne Weekly. He later

SAYS IMPROVED PASTURE PAYS BIG DIVIDENDS

R. T. (Rob) Nabors who lives on Sabano Creek about ten miles north of Comanche, says that his 200 acre pasture this year is carrying around 200 head of stock and some twenty years ago when nature had been allowed to take its course would carry only 30 head.

The improvement has been brought about says Mr. Nabors, by first cleaning out the underbrush and timber so that grasses could grow. Mr. Nabors says about 10 years ago he became interested in clover and grasses, and every active growing grass that he could find in this section of Texas he brought it home and scattered in his bottom, along with oysters and other legumes.

Now Mr. Nabors has several kinds of wild vetches, two or three kinds of bur clovers, two kinds of sweet clovers. Annual and perennial rescue grass, three kinds of rye grass, bermuda and mesquite grass, and some eight other hardy perennial grasses.

The value, points out Mr. Nabors, in having a great number of grasses is that some of them grow well in shade, some in flat land, others better on the hill side. But the greatest advantage is that grazing is furnished all the year by the different grasses which seem to adapt themselves to the condition of the pasture.

Mr. Nabors, after viewing the success that he has had with his pasture, says that Comanche County is the ideal county in all of Central West Texas for pasture improvements, that there are now thousands on thousands of acres of the finest kind of land all up and down the many creek bottoms of Comanche County, if only cleaned out of excessive timber, planted to the grasses and clovers, then looked after a few years would make ideal grazing ground for dairy and beef cattle as well as sheep.

According to County Agent J. A. Barton, more and more attention is being turned to pasture improvements, that there are now thousands on thousands of acres of the finest kind of land all up and down the many creek bottoms of Comanche County, if only cleaned out of excessive timber, planted to the grasses and clovers, then looked after a few years would make ideal grazing ground for dairy and beef cattle as well as sheep.

both dairy and beef production. One station in reporting the value of pastures find that pasture grasses when dried makes a concentrate a valuable as a 20 per cent mixed dairy ration.

Already a good number of farmers are paying attention to their pastures, cleaning out brush and undesirable cactus, etc., some pasture land is being terraced, others are starting to plant legumes and grasses, as well as keeping down the weeds by sheep or mowing off once to twice a year.

THREE RULES

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and he found that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not habit forming.

The Doctor never did approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Get a bottle today, at any drugstore and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open. For a free trial bottle, just write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. 41, Monticello, Illinois.

WHEN
FOOD SOURS

ABOUT two hours after eating a many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

PAINS QUIT COMING

"When I was a girl, I suffered periodically with terrible pains in my back and sides. Often I would bend almost double with the intense pain. This would last for hours and I could get no relief.

"I tried almost everything that was recommended to me, but found nothing that would help until I began taking Cardui. My mother thought it would be good for me, so she got a bottle of Cardui and started me taking it. I soon improved. The bad spells quit coming. I was soon in normal health."

Consider your Adam's Apple!!*

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

Eve started it and the daughters of Eve inherited it. Eve gave Adam the apple, and it seems that Adam must have passed it on. For every man and every woman has an Adam's Apple. Put your finger on your Adam's Apple—that is your larynx, your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. Consider your Adam's Apple—when you do so, you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants. Reach for a LUCKY instead. Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette which brings you the added benefit of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. It is this exclusive process that expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

An Unpleasant Subject

All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. The Way of Life

BRUCE BARTON

The Three B's

HERE have been many serious conferences in this year of tough business, and recently I attended one of them.

The problem was whether a certain industry, which was encountering difficulties, could be kept going. Three men spoke; their remarks were about as follows:

First Man: Conditions are much worse than anybody is willing to admit. Car loadings are off; steel production is flat; the automobile industry is on its back; every business barometer points down. You can argue that the country has faced the same situation before and has come through. But this is different. Now America is a world power, dependent on world markets. Wherever you look in the world you see nothing but trouble. I think that any enterprise which is losing money ought to be stopped. We are not justified in taking chances.

Second Man: I wouldn't go as far as the first speaker. Things are undeniably bad and may get worse, but I do not think we are justified in assuming that the world is going busted. What we need is plenty of time to get all the facts and talk them over and be sure we are right. I suggest we appoint a committee, and then we can meet again in a couple of weeks and have another conference.

Third Man: I disagree with everything that has been said. This depression isn't different from a hundred others that have preceded it. Always people lose hope just when the turn is about to come. Always it is argued that "conditions this time are different." I do not see that we shall gain anything by appointing committees or delaying action. What we need is not more facts but more guts. I am in favor of going to work right now to pull this business through.

Men divide themselves into different classifications which are called by various names. There are the optimists who are consistently hopeful and the pessimists who always fear the worst.

There are what the psychologists term the "introverts," those whose eyes are turned inward, the brooders, the hypochondriacs, the mystics; and the "extraverts," whose vision is outward and forward.

In good days it is not so easy to distinguish, but these past few months have been a testing time. They have divided all men into three great groups:

The Defeatists—who say conditions are different; it can't be done.

The Debaters—who say, let us appoint a commission and adjourn until another time.

The Doers—who say, let us pick out the toughest problems and hit it first.

Each of us falls into one or the other of these groups. In which one are you?

Mrs. J. H. Bryson
Wife of Ranchman
Buried Monday

Mrs. Ellen E. Bryson, 66, widow of the late John H. Bryson, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. T. Stacy in Coleman, at 2 p. m., Sunday, June 14th. Funeral services were conducted at Comanche at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Curtis Stevens June 15, at 3:30 p. m., by Rev. Ben Parker of Breckenridge.

She was laid to rest in Oakwood Cemetery at the side of her husband who died April 10, 1915. Active pall bearers were T. J. Williams, William Reese, J. D. Waring, J. R. Eanes, Marion Wilkerson, E. E. Anthony, Jack Moore, and Dick Alexander of Millersview. Honorary pall bearers were Dr. A. J. Gray, Dr. Robert Bailey of Coleman, S. B. Todd, R. E. Blue, J. D. Bonner, O. Handley, Wade Everidge, Maxwell Farmer, Bob Holly, W. N. McCullough, Clyde Bayes, and H. G. Switzer all of Coleman, R. K. Shelton and D. Dingwall.

Mrs. Bryson was born and reared in Comanche County and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Martin, pioneer rancher and early President of the First National Bank of Comanche. She was married April 10, 1881, to John Bryson who had come to the county ten years previous to that date. From a humble beginning, Mr. and Mrs. Bryson built up one of the largest estates in this section of the state, their ranch beginning at the West City limits of Comanche and extending on both sides of the highway to Logan's Gap. They also acquired large land holdings near Millersview and Mr. Bryson during the last years of his life was recognized as one of the important cattlemen of West Texas. As evidence of hard work done by Mr. Bryson in his early life, miles of rock fence which were built by him are still standing near Comanche.

Children surviving are Will Bryson, Mrs. T. E. Whitfield, and Mrs. Frank Everidge of Millersview; Mrs. D. T. Stacy and J. B. Bryson of Coleman; Mrs. H. E. McCulloch of San Angelo, Gerald Bryson of Brownwood, Charlie Bryson of Hot Springs, New Mexico, and Mrs. Curtis Stevens of Comanche. She is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Henry Martin of Hillsboro, New Mexico; Jim Martin, Phoenix, Arizona; Mrs. Mattie Lewis, Trinidad, Colorado; Mrs. R. T. Wright, Oplin, Texas and Mrs. O. W. Roberts, Hobbs, New Mexico.

There Is No Good Reason —why warm weather should add to the discomforts of housekeeping. Electricity, if given the opportunity, will make the performance of the daily tasks quite as easy and as comfortable as in the winter-time.

Noiseless electric fans will keep the air circulating and create cool breezes.

An electric ventilator in the kitchen will keep that room free from all odors of cooking.

The electric refrigerator will keep you constantly supplied with cubes of clean ice, make frozen desserts, and keep your food in perfect condition.

Labor-saving devices improve your home and save your temper—particularly in the summer-time. Their cost of operation is almost negligible when you consider the service they render.

Make it a more comfortable summer with electric service.

Legion Meet Gets Good Crowd

An unusual crowd was in attendance at the American Legion celebration Friday evening when threatening clouds and wind drove the crowd from the Lake Eanes Park where the assembly was being held to the First Baptist Church where it was concluded.

The program began before sundown when the members of the local legion, ex-service men, and visitors from neighboring posts were served a Comanche Stew. After this the Comanche Band gave a concert which was followed by speaking by State Commander Hal Brennan of Laredo and State Service Officer W. S. Goode of Austin.

Following the close of the meeting, a round table conference was held in local Commander J. B. Allcorn's office with ex-service men who had not yet had their adjusted compensation fully straightened.

More About LIVE AT HOME

Large crowds were again in attendance on the second day of the Live at Home Program held at Gustine Tuesday when fifty women met with a few from Energy and Lamkin to hear the plan as outlined by Mrs. Temple.

Demonstrations with the steam pressure cooker in the Home Economics room of the high school building occupied a large part of the morning. Several varieties of vegetables were put up, canned beets put up in water instead of vinegar being one of the items stressed by Mrs. Temple which she said enabled this vegetable to be preserved for winter use and served with butter, having more food value than those put up in vinegar.

Dinner was served in the school building at noon after which the lectures were taken up.

In spite of the rain Wednesday, approximately fifty women and 4-H Club girls were at Robinson Springs to attend the third meeting of the Live-At-Home campaign. The continued interest in the meetings indicated that all sections of the county are sold on the program according to Mr. Barton who said more interest was being shown in the movement than in any community undertaking during the last few years.

Dinner was served at noon and a program similar to the one followed at Hasse and Gustine was carried out.

The fourth program was to be held Thursday afternoon at the residence of L. A. Singleton at Newburg.

More About FRUIT GIVES LONG LIFE

besides fruits and nuts and life got shorter. There is little doubt that the men of that age that lived to be extremely old lived on grapes, apples, peaches and nuts and figs. The water they drank was mostly rain water and did not contain much lime.

Grapes and vineyards are mentioned forty times in the Old Bible. Joel said that the hills will drop with new wine and it is again said that in connection with vineyards that men ages shall be like the age of trees. Thirty-five years ago people spoke of fruit and melons as trash, but this I believe, in fact I feel sure of it, fruits will again become the food of men. Of course I include melons in this since melons represent food in the most delicious and pure form.

The shortest lived people on Earth are the eskimos and they do not eat fruit. In this country more people die during the winter months, in fact three times as many people passed sixty and more younger people than during all the rest of the year. My theory is that it is because they do not have plenty of fresh fruit. Of course we can get a lot of fruit from the South but what we of the temperate zone need is the temperate zone fruit. They fit into our nature.

The Comanche County Cannery is one of the finest things yet. The man who first thought of that needs a fine statue on the square, he deserves it. We see often the statue of some old blood thirsty general, but the man who promotes health and happiness like the man who first thought of that cannery is a greater man. You know the people who built the pyramids ate berries. They are one of the finest fruits on earth and it will pay you to tell the world about them.

Some of the women are beginning to find out that fruit is good for them. They may get to doing like old Sarah did in Bible times. The old bird called old Parr that lived to be one hundred and fifty years old, lived on grapes and wine mostly, he got to be so noted that an English King invited him to come to the palace. They gave old Parr a feast and filled him up on the finest victuals the king had. It was too much for the old fellow and he got crop bound and died.

That old Turk that was over in our country last year and claimed to be 137 years old had lived the simple life and eaten grapes and melons as a principal diet but he was too smart when he got here to fill up on the so-called breakfast food. If he had have even smelled of that stuff, his picture would have come out in the paper holding a package of prepared hay. But the Comanche Cannery missed a great bet by not sending him a case of blackberries. They would have been appreciated.

JOE H. FITZGERALD.

A REVIVAL MEETING

Will Begin at the Baptist Church Sunday, June 21.

We extend a most cordial invitation, and earnest solicitation to all people in and around Comanche; both churchmen and non-churchmen to attend this meeting.

Whatever may be our foibles, will you not wrap them in the habiliment of charity, and come this one time and let us seek God's favors.

If I had just one wish to be granted, and then pass on across the Great Divide; that one wish would be, that church people might be revived and sinners saved, and through it all Christ glorified.

GORDON BARRETT, Pastor.

More About FRONTIER DAYS

"This time, arming ourselves with rifles, we again started in pursuit, on foot on account of the rough brakes. After some half hour of crawling through the tall grass, we arose to get our bearing and as we did so the two thieves opened fire at us from a patch of tall grass less than fifty yards away. Being unable at first to locate the enemy we fell to the ground and hugged the dirt, trying as best we could to locate them. For ten minutes an almost incessant fire came from the grass, the bullets cutting the grass all around us, and knocking dirt in our eyes. The fact that they were armed only with six shooters saved us for had they, like us, had rifles, their shooting doubtless would have been effective.

"We finally located the spot from where the attack was being made and began a snake like crawl toward it, moving so slowly that they failed to detect it and continued to shoot into the tall grass where we were first seen.

"Coming as close as we dared, we all three began shooting simultaneously, after four or five minutes of this, one of the desperadoes leaped into the air, threw down his pistols, and screamed, 'We surrender,' but just as he did so, one of us fired striking him in the knee and the bouncing and screaming that he did in the next few minutes made us think that we had wounded a whole regiment. When we reached the scene, his companion lay motionless on the ground apparently dead. We examined him and found that a bullet had seemingly passed through his body and we pronounced him dead, devoting our time to the man shot in the knee who was still moaning and groaning loud enough to be heard for a mile.

"Soon the fellow shot through the body began to revive and refused to complain of his injuries, stoutly maintaining that he could ride to the Fort with us. Despite the fact that the man hurt in the knee who simply gave us his name as 'Pink' said that he could not make the trip and would die if he undertook it, we strapped them both on mules and started for the Fort, driving the animals which had been stolen ahead of us.

Upon our arrival, 'Tye', our other prisoner, was examined very closely and it was found that the bullet upon entering his body had apparently struck a rib and made a semi-circle around his body just beneath the skin, coming out almost opposite to where it had gone in, thus deceiving us in the belief that the bullet had passed through his body.

"A few days later several men rode into the camp with papers purporting to be from Denver, claiming that they wanted 'Tye' for an offense at that place. We gave him up and the next morning we found his lifeless body hanging from a tree less than a mile from the Fort. We then realized that we had been imposed upon and that instead of releasing our prisoner to governmental officials, we had turned him over to the 'Vigilance Committee', an illegal body who took the law into their own hands.

"Pink" remained with us several months, still complaining loudly of his wounded knee, but became of some value to us as a scout in directing us to camps of other outlaws."

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

As stated last week, we are to begin a revival meeting next Lord's Day. Our hopes for a real revival are based on the promises of God. A promise is as good as the one that makes it. That God will fulfill his promises, I have not one shadow of a doubt; if only we will meet the conditions on which He bases His promises.

Far be it from the one writing this note, to become a calamity howler. But that christianity is at a low ebb all over the world, no well informed person is going to deny. In the United States last year, only two denominations made any advance. All others lost. Our denomination made a net gain of seventy-five thousand. At first sight, that looks good, but when we think of the per cent per member, it is shocking. You do not have to read musty history to see the fruits of a Godless people. As the churches decline, homes are breaking down, lawlessness is running rampant, there are more unchastity deaths than the world has ever known; more nervous breakdowns. On I might go "ad infinitum." In many particulars, policy has taken the preeminence over principle, and righteousness a hiss while sin is popular.

Vice has always cost the human race a thousand times more than virtue and piety. The Prodigal Son was safe and provided for while in his father's home. Prodigality lead him to the swinepen. When he came to his senses and returned to his father, he found bread enough and to spare.

I love my home-town. She grows dearer and dearer to me each day. No doubt she will compare favorably with any town of her size. But we make a mistake when we measure ourselves by ourselves, or by any other person. The paramount question is, are we as good as we could or should be. Pure and undefiled religion will not diminish ones health, happiness and success in any wise.

No matter who you are, nor what your church affiliation, or non-church affiliation may be; you will find a cordial welcome with us. And if it is in my power to serve you in any way, I will be very happy in so doing. This one time, will you not please give God a chance in your life? Gordon Barrett, Pastor.

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old fashioned medicine which you can get at 50c per bottle from
